NO. 102

NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

Mrs. Nancy Martin, one of the oldest women in Madison county, died at Newby of paralysis, aged 84.

Andrew J. Byrnes, aged 35, one of the most popular engineers on the Cincinnati Southern road, died at Lexington.

John Amsden, a Hogsett Academy student from Versailles, died from the effects of an operation for tonsillitis at St. Joseph Hospital, Lexington.

At the Centre College oratorical contest the speakers were G. Howard Bruce, Danville; Nathaniel Lafon, Harrodsburg; Harry C. Rogers, Mt. Sterling and Rogers won.

Mrs. W. R. King died at Parksville Monday after a long illness, aged 52. A husband and four children survive. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Peter Straub, of this place, and Hon. B. B. King, of Moreland.

The pine timber lands of Southwest Virginia, East Tennessee and North-western North Carolina have been monopolized by Canadian and New England capitalists. The capital of the syndicate is $5,000,000.

The country home of James H. Robinson, one mile from Mitchellsburg, was burned early yesterday morning, together with everything in it. The members of the family made a narrow escape in their nightclothes. Loss about $4,000, insurance $3,000.

Anderson Baker, better known as "Anse" Baker, from Clay county, who was arrested in Louisville, was taken to Manchester for trial. He is wanted there on the charge of shooting Deputy Sheriff John Hall. Baker is a member of the 1st Kentucky and served with the regiment through the Porto Rican campaign, and his officers and comrades in arms speak of him as a splendid soldier.

HENRY T. HARRIS.

F. J. C. contributes the following deserved eulogy to his old friend and assistant, Henry T. Harris, to the Somerset Paragon:

The death of Henry T. Harris, Esq., in Stanford, last week, closed the earthly career of one of the earliest bright intellects of the Central Kentucky bar. He was probably not known personally to many people of this county, but through his editorial connection with the INTERIOR JOURNAL for the first years of the paper's existence, many of our readers learned to admire the facility of his ready pen. For many years he was a popular, not to say distinguished, contributor to some of the great Eastern Magazines, and so versatile were his accomplishments, that he seemed equally at home upon all topics, from the intricacies of Statecraft, to the mysteries of the toilet. Some of his earlier articles upon the science of agriculture, were marvels of practical knowledge, though he never worked an hour upon a farm in his life. Personally he was a gentle, lovable man, full of the milk of human kindness and sympathy, and while in his writings, he never attempted the humorous, he was, in private intercourse, inimitable in sparkling wit, drollery and irresistible humor. The old friends of Henry Harris sincerely mourn his departure.

In a letter to Col. Tyson, of the 6th Volunteer Infantry, Brig. Gen. Fred D. Grant says: "I feel that it is due as commander of your regiment and your officers and soldiers to acknowledge your most excellent services while in Porto Rico, which services I have valued and appreciated from the day you came under my command. No regiment could have done better work, and no regular could have done as well as the Sixth Volunteer Infantry." The work of mustering out the 6th began Tuesday, with the physical examination of men claiming to have contracted disease or otherwise disabled. Every man will undergo a physical examination, however, as a record of the condition of each soldier when mustered out is carefully preserved.

In New York City, a pretty girl on an electric car was appealing to the conductor to stop at 33d street. He had told her for the twentieth time that the car could not stop there, when a stout Irishman arose and with clinched fists said: "If you don't stop the car I'll break your damned face." It stopped.

The British steamer Victoria arrived at Baltimore with four of the crew of the missing steamer Bulgaria. These, with the 25 rescued by the Weehawken, are believed to be all that were saved out of a total of 130 passengers and crew.

A New York fool, who did not know what to do with his money, gave a dinner at which he gave $25 a plate for blue raspberries and 20c a piece for strawberries. The dinner cost $10,000.

The Odd Fellows are about to get in a serious row. A session of the Grand Lodge has been called for Feb. 27 to take action against Secretary Elliott for removing the books and papers of the order from Louisville to Lexington.

LANCASTER.

Mrs. Rose Radford, of Martinsville, Ind., is the guest of her cousin, Miss Fannie Bishop.

Mr. Jason Walker, of Mississippi, brother of Judge W. E. Walker, has been here buying saddle horses at $90 to $80.

Alex Gill, colored, was fined $50 and sent to jail 10 days by Judge Brown for drawing a pistol and whipping a colored woman.

Contractor Ryan has broken dirt for the new hotel, and a number of hands are removing rubbish and excavating for the basement.

The friends of Capt. Wm. Herndon are anxious to have him apply for the place vacated by Judge Barr. They claim that he is competent in every sense of the word to fill the position.

David Ross showed us a round pint bottle with a cucumber, eight inches in circumference in it, which was grown there 27 years ago by Jura Moberly. It was preserved in alcohol, but the liquid will be used by Mr. Ross and the cucumber will decay.

The popularity of the INTERIOR JOURNAL was clearly manifested Tuesday evening, when it failed to put in an appearance, but when the cause was learned the subscribers submitted to the inevitable. Our officials are using all precautions and will be prepared to isolate a case of small pox if it appears here.

On Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, Sinclair Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Hill, died of erysipelas. He would have been 18 years old on Mar. 13, was a social and an intelligent young man and had many friends. Funeral services, and burial in Lancaster Cemetery, will take place Friday at 2 p. m.

The Commercial Club met again on Wednesday night, adopted articles of incorporation, fixed membership fee at $1, annual dues at $1, and elected the following board of directors: Wm. Herndon, B. F. Hudson, J. C. Thompson, Louis Landram, J. M. Logan, Jas. Spillman, Wm. Ward, R. E. McRoberts, R. H. Tomlinson, J. E. Stormes, John M. Farra and James Elmore.

On Wednesday at 10:30 A. M., Mrs. Kitty Leavell, relict of Squire T. Leavell, died at her home in this city in the 84th year of her age. She was an estimable lady and an earnest and devoted member of the Christian church. She was the grandmother of Judge J. C. Hemphill and Victor Leavell and the mother of Mrs. Jesse Walden. Funeral services will be conducted at the Christian church on Friday at 10 A. M., by Elder R. M. Campbell, assisted by Elders Jesse and W. P. Walden. Interment in Lancaster Cemetery.

Notwithstanding the rapid growth of our nation during the past century, our brilliant achievements on land and sea, and the fact that our guns have just ceased roaring in distant waters, subduing an empire and paying a liberal price in blood and money for the liberty of millions of oppressed people, yet a spark of old time patriotism was manifested here on the 22d, by displaying flags and holding appropriate exercises. Jim (Crow) Dillon unfurled his flag in the park, Revs. Massee, H. N. Faulconer and Mr. W. I. Williams delivered eloquent addresses at the graded school, and the students sang patriotic airs in memory of Washington.

Our enterprising citizens are still moving in the right direction, and their efforts will ultimately place our town and county among the most prosperous in the State. About 400 convened in the police court room on Monday night and organized a Commercial Club. The following officers were elected: President, Capt. Wm. Herndon; Vice President, J. C. Thompson; Secretary, Lt. John M. Farra; Treasurer, Citizen's National Bank. The object is to promote the welfare of Lancaster and Garrard county, and to advocate the adoption of all honorable means to attain that end. The meetings are to be held weekly and the membership will soon reach 100. Everybody is invited to cooperate in promoting all enterprises, having the object named in view. In this and several other successful enterprises, Capt. Louis Landram and Lt. John M. Farra seem to be the original promoters, for which they deserve much credit.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, The Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The spotted fever that is epidemic in several of the western counties of the State is much more serious than the small-pox.

During 1898, the number of two-cent stamps issued was 2,500,000,000. Placed end to end they would extend over 39,000 miles.

MIDDLEBURG.

Counting all sizes we have had 19 snows since Oct. 13th.

Fred Durham, who is attending school at Danville came home Friday to see his mother. L. H. Royalty, of Somerset, is here to see his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Royalty.

Prof. Hagerman, a magic lantern showman, was advertised to give a performance at Keeney's Hall Tuesday night, but our people manifested so little interest in the show that he got mad and declared the whole thing off and shook the "mud" of the city from his feet.

Rube Staton, F. B. Lucas and U. S. Tapscott are the boss coon hunters of this section. They went out Saturday morning and tracked four to their places of abode and captured them with but little trouble. The writer came on them in the height of their glee and shared in the sport, which was animating indeed.

Friday H. K. Lucas and Rob Keeney got to snow balling each other when Keeney very foolishly got mad and drawing his knife, threatened to do a little carving on the surface of Lucas' anatomy, but cool headed friends intervened and the shedding of blood was averted. A warrant for Keeney's arrest was issued, but he absconded before it could be executed and has since made himself conspicuous for his absence in the region round about Middleburg. Keeney was sheriff of the loafsers club here and by his sudden disappearance that office is declared vacant and it will be the duty of the president of that organization to fill it by appointment till the next regular election.

Doubtless many of the I. J. readers are becoming wearied with the bridge question in this county, but as there is little else to write about here, we think it not amiss to come back at those drivelers who have lately made us the target for their harmless shells. Notably among the empty craft above mentioned is the Dunnville scribe, who, like Josiah Allen, of whom we have all read, imagines himself a great man, comes to the front in defense of the bridge proposition and criticizes us because we have dared to oppose a project of which he is the father, and tries to bolster up his cause by referring to the doings of an extravagant fiscal court, of which he is probably a member. He says we are pessimistic. Well, if our opposition to the bridge makes us so, then all of our people are down with the same disease. That a bridge is needed at Liberty no one will deny, but there are probably 50 other places in the county where bridges are needed. Surely the fiscal court will not attempt to build them all. And it ought not to make fish of one and fowl of another. We were aware before being informed by the all wise Dunnville that there had been no order for the levy of taxes for bridge purposes and our object in kicking so soon was to put a quietus on the project in its infancy. Our people are a God fearing people and always pray before the devil comes, a precaution probably never thought of by our Dunnville brother. The bridge question once on us will be hard to throw off, hence our early kick. Now we want to give our down the country brother due credit for every good thing he said, and we heartily agree with him that the fiscal court ought to get wisdom and prudence enough to deal with the pauper and other questions affecting the treasury of the county before it springs new ones. Now we wish to say in conclusion that in opposing the bridge project we are not actuated by prejudice or dislike toward our Liberty brothers, because we like them all for their hospitality and pure friendship which seems to reign supreme, and because that good old town is now principally made up of material taken from Middleburg and vicinity. But it is perfectly natural for people to kick against paying for something that can be of no use to them, and as there is much barking on the other side and coming altogether from the small portion of the canine family, there ought to be no objection to us doing a little barking too.

Omer was two years and six months old and a very bright and promising little fellow. The mother is very much stricken with grief, and has the sympathy of the many friends she has made while in Lexington. A friend to the family, Mrs. Ida George, Lexington.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

J. S. Smith, of Bourbon, has announced for attorney general. The appropriations of this Congress will foot up over a billion and a half.

Speaker Reed denies the report that he is to retire after the next Congress.

Senator Blackburn has gone to Porto Rico to visit his daughter, Mrs. Gen. Hall, whose husband is adjutant general in command of the island.

Prof. W. J. Henry, principal of the Morehead Normal School, is announced as a candidate for the democratic nomination for superintendent of public instruction, in the Mountaineer.

Poor old man Palmer said in Louisville: "I am out of politics. Free silver is dead as a national issue. Gold democrats will seek out their own affiliations. They are no longer a factor as such."

Gov. Pingree, of Michigan, said in a 22d speech that capital controls the republican party, that multi-millionaires, corporations and promoters of trusts are filling the front seats and taking away the power from the American youth to make a career.

This is Bryan's platform: "Independence for the Filipinos under a protectorate which will guard them from outside interference while they work out their destiny is consistent with American tradition, American history, and American interests. The sooner the declaration is made the sooner will come the rewards assured to individuals and nations who strive to do good."

In a speech to the Virginia Democratic Association, Congressman Bailey, of Texas, said: As certain as the years go by and the great national convention re-assembles, we will rig up the platform of 1896 and in his (pointing to W. J. Bryan) unsullied name will give the banner as stainless as his life (great applause) and then the great commander will give orders for the forward march, and it will be a march to victory.

Both Houses of the Legislature of North Carolina have passed an amendment to the constitution to limit suffrage and it will be submitted to the people in August, 1901. The avowed object of the amendment is to eliminate the ignorant Negro vote. To do this educational, property and poll tax qualifications are prescribed. But this is made ineffective as to white people by the further provision that any person can vote who was entitled to vote on Jan. 1, 1867, or any time prior thereto, or whose ancestors were so entitled to vote.

APPRECIATED EXPRESSIONS.

The Stanford Interior Journal has a case of small pox in the building where it is published, but that does not keep the paper from being as lively and spicy as ever.—Winchester Democrat.

If the post-offices are going to draw the line against such excellent papers as the Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL because of a case of small-pox in its building, what do they propose to do about those journals which go through the mails every day in the throes of the most virulent yellow fever?—Courier-Journal.

Our worthy and esteemed contemporary, the INTERIOR JOURNAL, which was forced by the prevalence of small-pox in its building to miss its regular publication day, will appear today, one day late, but better late than never. We congratulate Editor Walton on his relief from annoying interruption and the readers of the INTERIOR JOURNAL on the resumption of the visits of so popular a paper.—Advocate.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

The London Baptist church is to have a Bible Institute, Mar. 6-9.

The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville now has 255 students.

The presentation of a Bible and a sword to Commodore Philip at Galveston, was a great occasion. The battle-flag of the ship was presented to the Sunday school children.

A new remedy for pneumonia was tried by the doctors at Hartford, Conn. A patient, whose temperature was 107 and had lost consciousness. The patient was stripped and placed on a bed of snow. Snow was heaped over him and he was kept thus for half an hour. Then the doctor hit him a blow in the face. He opened his eyes and spoke rationally and began at once to recover.

So much misery and so many deaths have been caused by the Grip, that every one should know what a wonderful remedy for this malady is found in Dr. King's New Discovery. STANFORD, KY., - FEB. 24, 1899

W. P. WALTON.

LEXINGTON has been going from bad to worse for a long time, owing to the failure of its courts to punish lawbreakers. The climax of ruffianism, emboldened by an apparent immunity from punishment, was reached when a splendid young man was shot and killed for no cause whatever, except that he exposed a doublet when a dirty whelp purposely ran against him, and the murder was the straw that finally broke the camel's back and awakened the people to the realization of the enormity of the numberless crimes that had gone unwhipped of justice. The victim of the assassination was Jacob S. Keller, cashier of the freight department of the Q. & C. railroad, and a gentleman of the highest standing, who never sought a difficulty. His murderer is King McNamara, a young shoulder-hitter at elections, who has been in numerous troubles and gone Scott free of them. Last week he ran against Mr. Keller on the street for the purpose doubtless of raising a row, and when he protested against such rough treatment McNamara drew a pistol and shot him, from the effects of which wound Keller died next day. The murderer was arrested and held in $1,000 bond, but forfeited it when he learned the result of his cowardly work. Gov. Bradley offered a reward of $300 for his capture; ministers preached about the murder and tried to ally all the moral forces to bring the fugitive to justice and to fight crime generally; Judge Parker ordered a special grand jury to indict McNamara, which it did after a noble charge from him and Tuesday afternoon the people gathered in mass meeting and after adopting resolutions denouncing crime in general and this one in particular, urged that the officers redouble their diligence to enforce the law vigorously and impartially against those who violate it. It was also resolved that every man who could should contribute to a fund for a reward for McNamara and $600 was raised immediately. The meeting was composed of the best citizens of Lexington and the earnestness of their action shows that they have resolved to call a halt on the crimes which are disgracing that city and making it a byword for lawlessness. Their action bodes good for Lexington and shows again that things may go on bad for a time, but when the limit is reached and patience is exhausted, the people rise in their might and correct them.

PERMISSION having been granted him to reply to certain charges recently made about him to the Senate, Rear Admiral Schley addressed a communication to the committee on naval affairs, which utterly refutes them and nullifies the attempt of the navy department to place him in a false light. He shows by a dispatch from Admiral Sampson that he was acting under orders from him during the Santiago campaign, which dispatch has been willfully suppressed to injure him. Speaking of "the retrograde movements," which the secretary, adapting the language of Admiral Sampson, characterizes as "reprehensible conduct," Admiral Schley says that in 42 years' service "never was such language used to characterize conduct of mine, and I see no reason for it now." He details the battle and by a statement of facts shows that the Brooklyn was to the fore all through it and his fleet did the work. The letter is in admirable taste and becoming modesty, while fully demonstrating the outrage and injustice attempted against him by Secretary Long and Sampson and it has confounded his accusers, whose personal jealousy caused the malicious attack on one of the bravest and best men in the navy.

It is sent out from Frankfort that Hunter has come home to run for governor, but this story is evidently untrue. Hunter knows that this isn't a republican year and he is not in politics for his health. It is also said that his coming knocks the proposed peace conference of republicans into a cocked hat as he will oppose fraternizing with the Bradley wing under any considerations.

A COUPLE in Louisville has just married after 17 years of courtship. Perhaps though they acted wisely. Many people find that there is more real pleasure in courting than in being married, realization rarely coming up to expectation. The enjoyment of pursuit exceeds in many instances the joy of capture, simply because so many people let excitement die with it.

W. GODFREY HUNTER, minister to Guatemala, has arrived on a 30 days' furlough and now look for a rattling of the dry bones. He comes doubtless to direct how the next campaign shall be waged and who shall wage it.

PHILADELPHIA is joined to her idols. Let her be anathema maranatha. She gave the republican candidate for mayor Tuesday over 100,000 majority over the democratic and prohibition candidates.

THE dirty and cowardly attempt to arouse prejudice against Senator Gobel by circulars anonymously sent from Cincinnati with reference to the Sanford tragedy will react in the candidate's favor and prove a boomerang, since Kentuckians love fair play and despise a blow in the back and in the dark. If the filthy business is in the interest of any candidate for governor, and it is shown that it is, it will cook his goose for good and all. One report says the Confederate veterans, of which Mr. Sanford was a member, is responsible for the underhanded effort against the Senator, but we can very easily give the lie to such a charge. Confederate veterans may sympathize with Sanford, but they fight only in the open and do not resort to the tactics of cowards and thugs.

THERE are 15 applicants for Judge Barr's shoes and all the republican districts have not yet been heard from. Pugh is said to be the nearest man to the president of the lot and he is backed by Deboe, but he will hardly be appointed since he was elected to Congress last time only by the skin of his teeth, another election assuring a democratic representative. Walter Evans is hot after the job, but Todd and Hunter will doubtless see that he does not land the prize. Judge Holt was introduced to the president and had a very satisfactory interview with him, but we fear he is too good a man to get the appointment.

GEN. MILES is being very thoroughly corroborated by officers of unimpeachable character regarding his beef charges and McKinley and the chief prosecutor, Gen. Alger, are getting very uneasy over the turn of affairs. It is said that the former fears that the patent attempt to disgrace him, will give Miles so much prestige that he will be nominated for the presidency by an outraged constituency. The court of inquiry will now go West to give the beef packers a chance to make their defense against the established charges that the meat was chemically treated and unfit for food.

It is told that at the close of the war, their father called Bob and Alf Taylor to him and said: "If we all expect to live by politics we must use some sense in the matter. You boys draw now which shall be a democrat and which republican and stand to your draw." Bob drew the democratic bean and Alf the republican, and they began at once to be the one and the other, the old man becoming a prohibitionist and afterwards a populist. They all made a good living from their politics and wits, Bob, who was three times governor of Tennessee and a Congressman for one term, getting the lion's share.

AN esteemed Louisville contemporary states that "Gen. John M. Palmer, who is in Louisville, says that free silver is an exhausted issue." May be, but there is no doubt whatever that the McKinley Aid Society, of which he was the decoy duck, is not only exhausted but dead and damned.

GEN. SHAFTER in a 22d speech said that Reed's opposition to the administration's policy would lose him the speakership of the next Congress. Hardly. Reed is stronger than the administration.

It is stated that President McKinley has decided to give Secretary of War Alger the g. b. He had better. It is the only thing that can save his administration from distrust and humiliation.

W. F. Stephenson, of Versailles, who was engaged to a young lady of that city, married a St. Louis girl under an assumed name, and now it turns out that he is under indictment in the Woodford circuit court for having forged the name of his father to a check. The case was called at the last term of court and continued, Stephenson giving bond and leaving the city for St. Louis in October.

Fires, believed to have been started by insurgents, broke out simultaneously at several points in Manila Wednesday night. Over 600 buildings were destroyed, and hundreds of natives are homeless. There was some fighting in the streets, and a few insurgents were killed and several American soldiers wounded. The uprising was suppressed.

The Filipinos are adopting the most cowardly and worrying tactics. They sharp shoot at our lines and burn and sack towns. Gen. Otis cables that the loss from the incendiary fires at Manila will amount to half a million dollars.

GREENBACKS or Government Money.

At close of our Civil War in 1865, there appeared in the London Times the following:

"If that mischievous financial policy which had its origin in the North American Republic during the late Civil War in that country, should become indurated down to a fixture, then that government will furnish its money without cost. It will have all the money that is necessary to carry on its trade and commerce. It will become prosperous beyond precedent in the history of civilized nations of the world. The brain and wealth of all countries will go to North America. THAT GOVERNMENT MUST BE DESTROYED OR IT WILL DESTROY EVERY MONARCHY ON THIS GLOBE."

The famous Hazard circular, to capitalists in New York, and the Buell Bank circular to United States Bankers, both emanating from London, and the fabulous corruption fund raised in England and Germany, estimated at $1,500,000, were the agents that secured the closing of our mints against silver.

The "walk into my parlor" policy of England, during and since the Spanish War, is the latest evidence of English Diplomacy in shaping the destiny of the United States Government.

Notwithstanding the famine price of wheat, the Spanish War, and fabulous expenditures of money by our government during the past year, gold has increased in value eleven per cent, and all other values decreased in the same proportion.

For a thorough understanding of the money question, or silver issue, the Cincinnati Enquirer has uniformly given evidence of its ability to teach, explain and produce all facts and truth. It is a paper that ought and can be read by all classes with pleasure and profit.

The Cyrano Affliction.
Have you heard of the Cyrano complaint? If you haven't, a girl in Chicago can describe its symptoms with authority. After the opening performance the other evening she felt simply limp with excitement. She slept only at fretful intervals, in which she dreamed of Mansfield and the cadets of Gascony and the De Bergerac nose above everything else, imagining that the huge proboscis had replaced her own tiny reticulate variety. When she awakened in the morning she laughed at the night's strange fancies, and just to prove what improbable things dreams are she looked at her face in the mirror. But to her horror she found that dreams are sometimes the precursors of reality. Her small nose was swollen into the nearest approach to the Cyrano nose that its abbreviated limits would permit, and along its edge was a row of scarlet blotches that certainly gave the owner of the nose a marked, if not a distinguished, appearance. And her friends only laugh and call her the victim of a disordered imagination, but she says it is the Cyrano complaint.

Great Advertisers.
It is impossible not to admire the enterprise and talent displayed by the modern advertiser. No art has advanced more rapidly in the last 20 years than that of letting the customer know what is in the stores and what its adaptabilities are for his uses. The American leads the world in this important branch of business. A comparison of leading European and American journals easily establishes the fact. The American advertiser presents his matter with far more clearness, variety and fullness of details than the English. He is more liberal in the use of space and of pictorial and other embellishments. The trade of our merchants and manufacturers accordingly grows faster than that of competitors in other countries. Americans have learned how to make commercial advertising profitable, attractive and generally interesting to the reader. It is hardly necessary to add that the proof is near at hand in great diversity.

While President McKinley was in Chicago a little bare-legged boy made his way into the president's presence, bearing an American Beauty rose. "I came to see you," he said, "and my name is Herbert Simon Strausser, of 3920 Lake avenue. 'Is that rose for me?' kindly inquired the president. Herbert suddenly walked to the side of the president's wife and held the rose up to her. Mrs. McKinley was so pleased at being favored with the gift for which the president had asked that she presented young Mr. Strausser with a photograph of herself, of the president and of the white house. Herbert Simon Strausser wiped the picture off on his trouser leg to make it more shiny, and unceremoniously ran out of the room and down the steps.

In the Catholic church at Celestine, Ind., is a large oil painting of three angels, by a master. The picture was cut from its frame by an American soldier, in the cathedral of the City of Mexico, when that city was captured by the American army in the war of 1845. Daniel Woelker was the soldier. He carried it to Louisville, Ky., and there sold it for $15. The purchaser afterward donated it to the church at Celestine. It is now receiving attention from art collectors.

Under the rather startling head of "Gone to the D—!" a Greenville (Miss.) paper, edited by a colored man who is radically opposed to cake walks, says: "The white people allowed the negroes the use of the opera house to practice for their cake walk, and they went from cake-walking to crap-shooting. So the white people have burnt them out. A short horse is easy to curry; so are some negroes."

A stray bullet cut many capers at a boarding house in Muncie, Ind., the other night. The shot first went through the sleeve of a coat worn by Peter McCordell, then plowed a furrow through Michael Haggerty's side and struck John Riley, who was standing near, in one leg, inflicting a slight wound. The shot was heard by the three men, but the shooter could not be located.

The remark is so frequently made that "a man who refused to give his name was knocked down by a street-car," or that "a woman whose identity could not be learned was run over by a grocer's wagon," that the Springfield Homestead advises people to give their names cheerfully and avoid such a penalty.

An envious contemporary of the wild and woolly west registers this howl: "When it is desired to pay honors to a big gun of the east he is wine and dined. In this progressive camp, when we desire to show our appreciation of a gun or a son-of-a-gun, big or little, he is whisked and free-lunched."

"A woman," says the Syracuse Post, "dropped a memorandum on the street one day last week on which was written, among other things: 'Pay taxes; kill rooster; get dinner; come home.'"

A Newark (N. J.) man has sued for divorce because his wife insisted on having snakes for pets. He probably felt that she was encroaching upon man's prerogatives.

CHARLES D. WEBB, who used to hold a case here, has obtained license to practice law and has thrown his shingle to the breeze at Paris.

MISS ELLA MAY SAUNDERS' parts in the entertainment here Wednesday night were the leading features, although all parts were excellent.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

MISS HETTIE WEAREN is in receipt of a much appreciated present from her cousin, Thompson, Wearen, in Porto Rico. It is a beautiful watch chain made of Spanish money, running in value from five to 20 cents.

MISS JENNIE HUGHES, a very lovely young lady from Bloomington, Ill., is visiting Mrs. I. M. Bruce and Miss Nettie Wray, her cousins, and everybody, who knew her when she lived here, is delighted to see her again.

JAMES T. MENEFFEE has secured through Supt. J. I. McKinney a good position with the L. & N. at Montgomery, Ala. This makes 50-odd Kentucky boys Supt. McKinney has secured positions for, 15 of whom are from this county.

MISS VIRGINIA BOWMAN received elegantly yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Josephine Reid and her visitor, Miss Spence. The callers included all of the "22d" visitors and many of the society friends of the fair hostess. It is needless to say that the occasion was in thorough keeping with the good taste which ever characterizes the "at home" hours at this house. The dining room, decorated in pink and white carnations, pink candles and handsome candelabra, was a thing of beauty.—Advocate.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

WE are showing the greatest variety of Dress Linings ever brought to Stanford. J. P. Jones.

OUR stock of Canned Goods—Dried Fruits and eatables is full and complete Call and see us. Warren & Shanks.

AWFULLY CLEVER.—A dispatch says that the health authorities at Richmond decided not to quarantine against Stanford unless the small-pox condition grows worse.

SNOW.—Nath Helden, mail carrier, tells us that snow fully three inches deep covered the earth from Highland to Kingsville yesterday afternoon. There wasn't enough to make snow cream here.

STAMPS, for bills of lading only, costs the L. & N. office here from $5 to $7 per month. Agent Rice orders 1,000 at a time and they hardly ever last as long as two months. One cent for each bill is required.

THE public school will close this afternoon without any flourish of trumpets. It was Prof. Winfrey's and Miss Lynn's intention to begin their subscription school next Monday, but they have decided to rest up a week and commence in earnest a week later, Monday, Mar. 6.

HARRY DUNN, who carries the mail three times a week between Rowland and Walnut Flat, is a fine old gentleman and one whom the cold weather couldn't stop, says the Mt. Vernon Signal. Even icicles gathered on his whiskers from eight to 20 inches in length during his trips.

BIG WAREHOUSE.—W. H. Traylor's big warehouse which will hold 5,000 barrels of whisky, is nearing completion, but he regrets now that he did not accept Contractor A. C. Sine's offer to build it for $2,000. It has cost him so far considerably over Mr. Sine's price, besides a great deal of time and trouble.

ACQUITTED.—Lt. Ethelbert D. Scott, who shot Col. D. G. Colson, was acquitted at Anniston, Ala., Col. Colson being unable to be present to testify and the State not making out a case.

GOLD isn't plentiful in Richmond as in some other places. The Climax says that a man who wanted $200 in the yellow metal succeeded only after getting a part from each of the four banks.

THANKS.—We neglected in our last to acknowledge the kind offer of the Danville Advocate of the use of its printery during our enforced suspension. Friends in need are friends indeed and that's what Messrs. Woolfolk and Giovannoli are, we are proud to say.

WILL REFUSE OUR CONVICTS.—The following notice was received by Sheriff S. M. Owens yesterday: "Because of the prevalence of small-pox in your county, I will not receive prisoners therefrom until after the disease has entirely subsided. E. T. Lillard, Warden Frankfort Penitentiary."

INSTEAD of being in Washington trying to attend to his business, Davison is spending the last two months of his term in attempting to rake up sufficient evidence to make a partisan Congress take from Mr. Gilbert the seat the people have said he must occupy. A great many important questions are now being considered by Congress and while they do not need Davison's help in the premises, it would look better to those who voted for him if he were making an effort to earn his salary.

LEE COUNTY, Va., just over the mountain from Middlesboro, must be a genuine hell-hole of crime if we are to believe the voracious Middlesboro correspondents. Every conceivable crime is located there or at Tazewell, Tenn., the latest being the murder of a husband in the former by his wife, who shot all the top of his head off because he playfully threw a tumbler at her while dining. Whenever there is nothing to say about the starting up of the Watts steel plant, we are sure to hear something horrible from one or the other of the places named, both of which have for years been doing overtime in furnishing imaginary sensations for penny-a-liners.

SMALL-POX is one of the most loathsome of diseases, and for that reason and the necessary isolation required for patients, is one of the most dreaded. In point of fact, however, there are very many diseases more fatal, the percentage of deaths from small-pox being far below those from typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, pneumonia and a dozen others. In 700 small-pox cases in Ohio, officially reported, there were only 10 deaths and the experience of Richmond, Middlesboro and the towns that suffered last winter, show even a lower percentage. Every man feels that he might be the one to die from the disease and consequently takes no risks that he can avoid. Fear of catching it has kept the country people away this week and the streets have looked like those of a town, whose merchants do not advertise. Business of all kinds is at a stand-still and this inflection taken with the recent long blizzard has had a very serious effect on the merchants and others.

We have never had as quiet a time in our office as at present. No one calls and the exchanges are always just where we leave them. There is some advantage in this, but we hope our friends will not entirely desert us. There is no danger here, the doctors say. So come to see us and bring your pocket full of "rocks."

A wild rumor was circulated last night that Babe Hansford, a colored man, had the small-pox. Dr. Bailey was sent to investigate, when he found that Babe's head was as big as a half bushel from the effects of a blow from a brick that another Negro "frowed" at him.

There are no new small pox cases and the doctors think there will be no epidemic. Every precaution is being used to prevent a spread, and fervent prayers that it will not be being sent up.

Rumor came to town that three Negroes in the "Deep Well Woods" had been stricken with the disease. Investigation proved that the story was false in toto.

Dr. Bailey tells us that J. H. Sowder, who is the only small pox patient here, is in the postular stage and quite sick at present, but not seriously.

SUITE of rooms over Higgins & McKinney's store for rent. W. H. Higgins.

ABUNDANCE of coal of all grades. Now is the time to supply yourself. J. H. Baughman & Co.

THE London Echo of to-day says that E. K. Wilson's case for the murder of Miss Cloyd, will not be reached at this session of the court. Same paper also tells of a spirited battle between Attorneys J. A. Craft and J. D. Smith, who were parted before serious damage was done. The Crafts will fight a saw mill.

COMPROMISED.—The suit of the administrator of Sam Shanks Newland against the L. & N. for $25,000 damages has been compromised, report says at $10,000, but this is doubtless untrue. The attorneys say the amount is not to be disclosed. Newland, who was a brakeman, was killed last November by being thrown from a freight train that had broken in two and run together.

GOOD BED FELLOW.—During the winter J. S. Murphy's pet grey squirrel has slept in that gentleman's bed and kept his feet warm. During the day the little fellow plays about the room, and when it sees its master preparing to retire, jumps into the bed, dives down under the cover and is ready to nestle about Mr. M's feet. Mr. Murphy lives near Hedgeville and is 80 odd years old.—Lancaster Record.

R. R. TAXES.—Sheriff S. M. Owens received yesterday a check for the Cincinnati Southern Railroad's taxes, which amounted to $2,885.58; a pretty good sized sum. There are 23.83 miles of the road in Lincoln and the valuation is $24,000 per mile. The road's other improvements are put at $5,250. The L. & N. has 22.42 miles and the valuation is $14,300 per mile. It has other property amounting to $7,350 and pays $1,639.78 taxes. The K. C. Branch of 4.45 miles is only put at $4,000 per mile and the other improvements at $300, making its taxes but $90.50. Notwithstanding the road has been torn up for years Auditor Stone wants Mr. Owens to collect a big sum from the road which ran from Yosemite to Kingsville; the 74 of a mile in the county being valued at $17,760 and other improvements at $600.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

An Illinois farmer who had been sued for divorce shot and killed his wife and then himself.

The wife of Edward Haff, of Alton, Ill., stole in order to be put in prison with her husband.

Robert Wagman, of Salem, Ind., only 27 years old, has just taken unto himself a fourth wife. Two secured a divorce and one died.

Jealousy caused Thomas Shaw, of Chicago, to fire three shots at Jerry Jackson while they were attending the burial of the former's little daughter. Jackson caused a separation between Shaw and his wife.

Miss Lula Cox, of Bowling Green, Ky., and Charles Crewdson, of Augusta, Ga., were married in Berlin, Germany, and will go to Egypt for their bridal tour. Miss Cox has been traveling in Europe several months.

In their youth H. N. Baker, of Sidney, O., led to the marriage altar the girl of his choice. They quarreled after a year or two and were divorced. Each married again and both lost their partners. Tuesday they were united for the second time and may it be for aye.

Wm. Rosseutcher, a German of Simpson county, lost his wife last fall and immediately advertised for another. Miss Mary Miller, of New York, answered and after an exchange of photos they became engaged. This week he sent her a money order to come to him and he met her at the train and they were at once married.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Etter died within 36 hours of each other at St. Louis and were buried in the same grave. They were recently married. The wife was taken ill of cerebro spinal meningitis. When she told him she would die the husband kissed her and contracted the disease. They were buried in their bridal robes and the funeral partook very much of the appearance of a wedding.

The Louisville Driving and Fair Association has secured 693 entries of 1898 yearlings for the Louisville prize, a $10,000 stake, to be trotted for in 1901. The books for the event were closed on Feb. 15th. This breaks the record for yearling entries.

The Madison county stock yard company, of Richmond, filed articles of incorporation with $9,500 capital stock. The purpose of the company is the buying and selling of live stock. Sam A. and N. B. Deatridge and Joseph Embry are the incorporators.

Mr. F. R. Feland, the most extensive and successful fruit growers about town, has been examining his trees, and finds many of the small twigs dead, doubtless from the effects of the late severe freeze. He fears that some of his choice trees are entirely dead. It is known that there will be no peaches and very few cherries.—Anderson News.

John Steele Carpenter, of Hustonville, sends us the following: I sold to Roy Beazley for William Byers, of Boston, the mare, "Shirley Park," No. 844, for $350. This is the third colt I have sold from the same mare. I have noted the subsequent sales, and adding the price offered for one that I still have, runs the average to $787.50, and have four yet remaining, all of which were sired by Wallace Denmark, No. 55.
